MINERS' LICENSES.

An error which many prospecting parties are falling into is in considering that it is unnecessary to procure a free miners' license before starting for the gold fields. This is an error which cannot be too soon corrected. Many parties are starting out without procuring them as they consider the payment of the fee attached to their issue is an unnecessary expense, and their belief has been strengthened by others, who are under the same impression.

The fee for a license in the Yukon or any other portion of the Canadian Northwest is $10, for British Columbia it is $5. These licenses can be obtained in town upon payment of the stipulated fees. As every prospector who goes into the north, goes with the intention of doing his best to locate a claim and subsequently work it for all there is in it, it is reasonable on the face of it that he should have a title to that claim and a title is what the license gives him. The miner who stakes a claim without a license has no legal rights until he procures a license. In the suppositions case of a prospector, who has no license, staking a claim on the Yukon watershed of the Pelly, or any other part of the Northwest, he would have to travel to the nearest office of record, and procure a license and record his claim there, and in the meantime the staking which he had done would be of no value from a legal point of view, and the claim could be jumped by any licensed prospector. Again, in the case of a party of prospectors who held licenses and struck rich claims, they could appoint one of their number a recorder and he could record the claims and thereby give them legal possession, and such recorder has three months in which to formally record the claims in the nearest government office. He can record for any number of others. The difference between the recording of claims under the mining laws of British Columbia and the Northwest Territories is that under the laws of the Pacific province a party may appoint one of their number to not only record the claims, but to issue licenses as well. This of course, only applies to claims located in British Columbia, and as many of the prospectors who are now leaving Edmonton will pass over and prospect a portion of British Columbia as well as parts of the Territories, they should be provided with licenses which would enable them to mine in either or both districts.

HOMESTEAD LANDS.

The Yukon excitement has had the effect of turning public attention towards the Edmonton district, not only on account of Edmonton's route to the Yukon, but also on account of the great agricultural resources and possibilities of the district. Every mail brings a number of enquiries as to what homestead lands are available, and for general information regarding the district from an agricultural point of view.

Homestead land, open for entry, can be secured within from fourteen to eighteen miles of Edmonton. This is the nearest point at which land in any quantity is open to homestead entry, and it lies south and east of Edmonton in the Beaver Hills district. As the Edmonton agricultural district is being rapidly settled up, it stands to reason that the most likely looking land in the vicinity of the town has been settled upon and the reason that this land referred to has not been chosen before is that it is more or less covered with fallen trees and the debris left as a result of a prairie fire. This land in other respects, is equally as good as that selected and homesteaded and the trees being small it is no very difficult matter to clear it up and cultivate it.

Forty miles southeast of Edmonton in the country lying to the southeast of Beaver Hills' Lake, the land is more open and free from fallen and dead timber and offers good homestead land to intending settlers.

From forty to fifty miles south of Edmonton, along the line of the C. & E. railway, land can be homesteaded within five or ten miles of the railroad. C. P. R. lands are for sale within eight miles of the town, at $3 an acre, which is the universal price of their land in this district. The terms of payment are divided into ten annual instalments which include principal and interest at six per cent. On a farm of 160 acres the annual payments would be $61.52. If the land is paid for in full at the time of purchase a reduction is allowed equal to ten per cent. on the amount paid in excess of the usual cash instalment. On the completion of his payments the purchaser receives a clear title from the company. In the case of homestead lands the entry fee is $10, $15 or $20 but never in excess of the amount unless there are improvements in the way of buildings upon the land, or a government lien for seed grain, held against it. In the event of the building improvements the value of such buildings is determined by the affidavit of the applicant and at the discretion of the agent; and in the case of seed grain liens the full amount of the lien is held against the land. If the land has never before been entered for or cancelled the entry fee is only $10. If it has been cancelled and the government put to the trouble of sending a homestead inspector out to inspect the land, they charge from $5 to $10 more, according to the work involved, and this extra amount goes towards the fund devoted to the maintenance of the government inspection service.

After entry the homesteader has only to reside upon the land for three years; during which time he cannot be absent more than six months in each year; must have a house on the land and some land under cultivation. The quantity of land to be cultivated is not confined to any stated amount and the government will not force a settler to plow a certain quantity of land if they consider he can do an equal amount of good to the community by using it for grazing purposes. If patent is not applied for within five years the minister may on three months notice, cancel the homestead entry.

MR. SUTTER MISQUOTED.

The Plaindealer of last issue administers an editorial castigation to C. W. Sutter, immigration agent for Alberta, (though his name is not mentioned), and delivers a lecture on the sin of lying, which very common human weakness, is developed to an inordinate degree in the gentlemen referred to.

The cause of the Plaindealer's indignation is an interview with Mr. Sutter which appeared in the Leader, of Bradley Illinois, in which he is credited with saying, among other things, that the yield of wheat last season in the Edmonton district was 43 to 45 bushels an acre; that coal sells at 50c a ton; that miners on the Saskatchewan river at Edmonton is a mile wide, and that a bridge which cost $125,000 has been built over it. All of these statements our contemporary objects to, on the ground that they are exaggerations and untruthful. The principle defined by the Plaindealer that exaggerated statements of a district are injurious to it is a most reasonable one, but in blaming Mr. Sutter for these exaggerations it is in error. It is merely a case of the visitation of the sins of the reporter upon the immigration agent, and an instance of how easy it is to make mistakes in an interview. The BULLETIN in receipt of a letter from Mr. Sutter, enclosing the article corrected by him to read as it should have appeared. The wheat yield should read, "from 33 to 45 bushels to the acre," the price of coal, "$1.50 a ton"; the amount of gold washed on the Saskatchewan, "from 50c to $3 a day"; the width of the river should be "a quarter of a mile," and Mr. Sutter stated that the bridge was being built.

The accusation of reckless untruthfulness is undeserved in the case of Mr. Sutter, than whom there is no better or more conscientious immigration agent in the west.

THE RATE WAR.

A despatch from New York states that the New York steamship lines have decided to cancel all arrangements with the C. P. R., except their prepared tickets sold by them on the other side, that is in Europe. The western lines have also notified the C. P. R. that their action has abrogated all immigrant contracts. This means the lines in question now refuse to do business with the C. P. R.

EDITOR BULLETIN.
SIR: We the undersigned members of a pack board for the headwaters of the Peace and Pelley by the new trail overland from Edmonton to Peace river, and having confided completely in your town, take this opportunity of saying as to the many advantages it offers as an outfitting point. The stocks of goods held by your merchants are complete, and suitable, and could only have been selected by men having long experience in the trade of the northern country, and prices are remarkably reasonable. We would beg to thank all with whom we have come in contact for their courteous treatment, and have no hesitation in recommending all parties taking the Edmonton route, whether by land or water, to purchase their supplies in your town, and to assure them that they will save money by doing so.

ANGUS RIDGE.

Rev. German, Hobema, preached a practical sermon on "Mission" last Sabbath. He showed how beneficial Christianity is for the well being of all. Mr. Lamer paid the burg visit on Wednesday. It has not been decided yet whether we will have a Sunday school entertainment this winter. It is getting late now. Something must be done to get Sunday school supplies. Mr. Nelles' family are sick with the cold. The sleighing is still all that can be desired. Where can we find a finer climate? Miss Tiesie Wilson is collecting for the Methodist missions. The people here seem to do what they can for the cause. The sacrament in connection with the Presbyterians here will not likely be held till Mr. Wood's successor arrives. Feb. 24.

WETASKIWIN.

The Keystone Crossing has been the scene of a second conflagration. A short time ago Ben's mill was burned down and now our oldest settler, Mr. Lucas, has suffered the loss of his house and nearly all its contents. He is, however, insured up to $600. The Bishop of Saskatchewan and Calgary administered the right of confirmation at Immanuel church, Wetaskiwin, on the 22nd in the presence of a fair congregation, a large proportion being children who listened most attentively to the bishop's address. A concert on the same evening drew off many pleasure seekers. Our new furniture store, McCullum & Wallace, is a valuable addition to the supply of the district. Excellent and strong furniture at a moderate price, and very attractive in appearance. A concert was given on the 17th at the Presbyterian church for the organ fund. The very bitter weather rather affected the attendance, but a fair sum was realized for the object. Our genial and humorous friend "The Free Lance," has been striking it into everything by way of practice to get his hand in, and is gradually learning how to do it—he is not yet lynched. Feb. 23, '98.

TO PATRONS AND INTENDING PATRONS OF A CREAMERY.

I desire to call your attention to a few facts concerning the creamery business, of interest to both farmers and patrons. As I might say: "United we stand, divided we fall." It is clear to every person that the object of a creamery is to produce a better grade of butter than is ordinarily produced on the farm. Some creameries have failed to do this and for that reason have failed to make a success of the business. There is also considerable loss of butter fat in the home dairy, whereas if it was brought to a creamery it would be saved. As Prof. Dean, of Guelph, Ont., has said, that just to note how closely farmers were skimming their milk, he went to thirty-two dairies around Guelph and got samples of skimmed milk from each of them, these having been skimmed from deep pans in ice water, in wells, in crocks and in shallow pans, and found the skim milk to contain on an average one pound of butter to every one hundred pounds of milk, some of the milk tested two per cent. that is two pounds of butter-fat, to every one hundred pounds of skim-milk, therefore this loss would mean that the milkman is losing one pound of butter for every one hundred pounds of milk. I wish therefore to make it very plain to you a factory that after co-operating and building a creamery you must aim to produce a good quality of butter in order to bring a high price for your milk and to obtain that you must take the best possible care of your milk and cream for right there is where the fate of your butter is sealed. No butter-maker, however expert, can make good butter out of bad cream, and in these days of advanced dairying the creamery that makes poor butter must close its doors sooner or later. With your co-operation the butter-maker can make a success of this business; without it he can do nothing.

How to build up a good dairy herd: On visiting a dairy you should choose one for profit or if you breed her you must breed her for profit, for right there is where the success of your dairying depends. One of the poorest tools on the farm is a poor cow herd. It will cost you nothing to buy a new cow, but it will cost you a great deal to keep her until she turns out debt. How are we to make improvements in this particular? There are two factors whereby you can accomplish your end. The first is by improving the breeding of your cattle, and the second is by improved methods of feeding. There is no doubt that the foundation of a good herd of dairy cows is breeding, the finish is feeding. Principles are the tools of the breeder. He must understand how to use them, not only as the work is in his own hands, but the work and experience of others. What is needed of you to-day is a closer study of the science of breeding for a definite purpose. If you intend to follow dairying, choose a bull from one of the dairy breeds, and grade up your herd, but don't expect to get a dairy cow from a beef bull. Why? Because the bull has been bred to produce beef cattle. The power to assimilate food and turn it into beef has been bred into him and built up for generations, and the tendency to produce cattle like himself is as strong that the offspring will have the characteristic of beef cattle, in a greater or less degree. Now this same is equally true of the dairy breeds.

We will suppose we want to produce a dairy cow. I would choose as good a native cow as I could find and one of the dairy breeds. I would not select a beef cow even if she were a good milkier, as many a beef cow has been a good milkier, but she would not breed that way. The people think that if they have a good animal individually that she will breed that way. She will not always; sometimes they will, but usually they produce cows inferior for the dairy compared with themselves. Therefore we should take a cow of the dairy form, and the bull, when crossed with a well-bred animal of a dairy breed, be almost certain to produce a calf that, if a heifer, will be an improvement on herself as a dairy cow. Why? Simply because she has been bred on dairy lines, and all her tendencies are in that direction. This is where the principles of breeding come in and I want to show why every farmer should study them. Because his money and his profits are in these animals; the farmer is the man who has to make his money out of the farm; the average farmer has to produce the animals of the country; not the breeder of pure-bred stock. Therefore the farmer should also be a breeder, and just as wise in producing an animal suitable for his purpose as the breeder of pure-bred stock. "Rome was not built in one day," nor is a good dairy herd. "Who backs two horses leaves one and loses the other." How is this, dear friend, of the general purpose cow.

G. R. TAYLOR,
Edmonton creamery.

IMPORTANT LAND NOTICE.

The Dominion lands office have received notices from Ottawa calling attention to the clause in the Dominion lands act which provides that if a settler does not apply for a patent for his lands within five years from the date of entry, the minister may, on three months' notice, cancel the homestead entry.

CARD OF THANKS.

The young ladies branch of the hospital aid society wish to express their thanks to the various ladies and gentlemen who kindly assisted them at the carnival on Saturday evening last, and especially to the members of the hockey club, whose amusing performance contributed so much to the success of the entertainment.

THE CLATWORTHY CASE.

For the purpose of elucidating the particulars of the legal settlement of the case of Harris et al. vs. Clatworthy et al., and in order to clear up the misunderstanding which, it is claimed, arose over the report of the settlement as previously given in the Bulletin, we produce by request of some of the parties interested, the following report which we are informed is the correct one.

By an order of Judge Rouleau the Clatworthy Prospecting Association was dissolved; the property other than money being directed to be divided equally between the partners and the stock and the money equally between the partners. Prior to the action for dissolution being commenced by Messrs. Austin, Harris, Rolé and Truman the other partners voted Mr. Clatworthy $735, which he claimed for his services in forming the association. Four-elevenths of this amount were directed to be paid to Messrs. Austin, Harris, Rolé and Truman. The costs of both sides were ordered to be paid out of the partnership assets. N. D. Beck, Q. C., appeared for the plaintiffs, P. McCarthy, Q. C., for the defendants.

MORE STEAMBOATS.

Geo. T. Leitch, of Minneapolis, arrived on last train to make arrangements for the freightage to the Landing of the material for his steamboat, which he expects in ten days.

The boat, which is now on the way in a knocked down condition, is to be freighted in sections to the Landing and placed together there, where it will be utilized to transport passengers over the Mackenzie route to the Yukon. The boat will be a twin screw propeller, sixty-five feet long and twelve foot beam, and will have a steel frame and an elm and oak shell. The engines are 60 horsepower and of the Scotch marine make. The boat will have a carrying capacity of 120 passengers and will be decked over. It is Mr. Leitch's intention to have the boat ready by the time the river opens and the first voyage will be made down with the ice. The boat will be taken down over the rapids and across Smith portage where it will be hauled over on rollers, using her steam capstan for power. She will then proceed to Peel river, going as far up that river as it is navigable. The boat will then return to the Smith portage and ply regularly between that point and Peel river. The first round trip between those points, Mr. Leitch estimates, will occupy about a month, but he expects to make better time on subsequent trips. The passenger fare from the Landing to Peel river is $200, and the freight charges $15 per hundred. If the first trip is successful Mr. Leitch intends to build two other boats upon the same line one of which will ply from the Landing to the Grand rapids and the other from the rapids to Smith portage, where it will make connections with the Peel river boat. Workmen are now here prepared to commence work on putting the boat together as soon as it arrives at the Landing. Mr. Leitch is himself a Glasgow man, having served his apprenticeship in the shipbuilding yards on the Clyde.

New York Life Insurance Company

WHY EVERY MAN SHOULD INSURE IN THE NEW YORK LIFE

BECAUSE:—It is the strongest company in the world.

—It has over two millions in assets.

—It earned for its policy holders last year from interest and rents, $8,801,501.30.

—These interest receipts, $8,801,501.30, exceeded by $400,000
the entire expenses of conducting the Company's business, including commissions for new business and charges of every kind whatsoever.

—Its policies as now issued contain no restrictions as to residence, travel or occupation, habits of life or manner of death.

—Its policies cannot be forfeited after three years, and, if allowed to lapse, the insured will receive either a paid up policy or extended insurance, as he may elect.

—You can borrow from the Company at 5 per cent. per annum after your policy has been three years in force.

—You do not have to die to win. If you live 10, 15 or 20 years you can settle your policy in any way that best suits yourself at the time for cash, paid up insurance, annuity or other options.

—You want the very best, the most privileges and the fewest restrictions, whether small or great, and the New York Life's accumulation policy furnishes them all.

—It furnishes to its agents and the insured public a detailed statement where every dollar of its money is spent and the rate of interest it is earning, and this statement is endorsed by 82 Governments.

ASSESSMENT SYSTEM.

MUTUAL PRINCIPLE

Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association

..OF NEW YORK..

LARGEST NATURAL PREMIUM LIFE
ASSOCIATION IN THE WORLD.

The Mutual Reserve gives protection at cost, and protection is all there is worth having in any form of insurance. Don't consider life insurance as an investment, for it isn't anything of the sort, nor pay an extra cent with the mistaken idea that ten, fifteen or twenty years hence the company will purchase your lifetime, accumulative or endowment policy back from you at a profit to yourself. It can't be done, and the agent who promises you such is either a knave or a fool.

The Mutual Reserve gives you insurance at about 40 per cent. less than the old line companies charge for their straight life policies.

SPECIAL FEATURES OF THE POLICY ISSUED BY THE MUTUAL RESERVE

- (1) In the event of the permanent disability, one half the face value of the policy will be paid.
- (2) No restriction as to travel, occupation or residence.
- (3) After it has been in force three years it will be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, as stipulated in the contract, or for mis-statement of age.
- (4) Dividends annually after the eleventh year.
- (5) Cash surrender after five years.
- (6) Extended insurance after policy has been in force five years.

Assets to liabilities nearly three times that of any other company in existence.

Agents wanted. Liberal contracts to good men.
